

RESCUERS DIG FRANTICALLY TO REACH 43 MINERS

NINE MET DEATH
IN WRECK TODAY
NEAR BETHLEHEM

Flyer, Running Ahead of Time, Plows Into Limited Train

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 27.—(AP)—At least nine persons were killed and 35 injured today when the Scranton Flyer of the Jersey Central Railroad plowed into the "Lehigh Limited" of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at a cross over of the two roads in this city.

The accident occurred at 5:45 a. m. within a hundred feet of a new union station.

The Lehigh Limited left Buffalo last night for New York. The "Flyer" is a through train from Binghamton, N. Y., for Philadelphia.

Steel Car Saved Many.

The huge Jersey Central train engine struck three cars back of the Lehigh Valley locomotive, throwing a steel coach on its side. It was in this car that all of those killed or injured were riding. Railroad men said had the car been of wooden construction they believed the killed or injured would have been far more numerous.

The dead so far identified are:

Hugh McGee, 60, Allentown, Pa., Lehigh Valley brakeman crushed beneath the overturned car.

George Gevenhorst, New Haven, Conn.

David Baum, believed to have been from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

D. J. Shevlin, address unknown, carried on Ingersoll-Rand Company Club card.

The injured include:

Among Those Injured.

Harry Schmidt, Maunoh Chunk, Pa., engineer of the Jersey Central train, possibly fracture of the right arm and body bruises.

Louis C. Baer, Lehigh Valley, body bruises and shock.

George Engler, Wilkes-Barre, body bruises.

Thomas A. Mezanowski, University of Pennsylvania student, Erie, Pa., body bruises.

Henry and John Basta, Parsons, Pa., body bruises.

Henry R. Delle, Allentown.

Daniel McGuire, Allentown, bruises.

Abraham Benlof, Allentown.

A. Charles Landis, Lehigh Valley University student, Newport, Pa., body bruises.

George Sell, Allentown.

Henry W. Roessler, Allentown, body bruises.

An official statement given out by the Lehigh Valley Railroad said:

Official Statement.

"Running ahead of time and with witnesses agreeing that the signals were set against it, a train of the Central Railroad of New Jersey en route to Philadelphia from Syracuse, Scranton and other western points ran into train number 6 of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Bethlehem, Pa., at 5:45 today. Train number 6 was running on time and had a clear road to the station.

The Central train ran into the Lehigh Valley train between the second and third coaches, striking and overturning the second coach which was a steel passenger coach.

Eight passengers were killed and about forty injured. They were taken to St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem. The passengers in the other coaches were not injured.

Marion Farmer Proud of Good Corn Harvest

Louis Arbogast of Marion township was a caller at The Telegraph office Saturday afternoon exhibiting proudly three ears of very fine white seed corn, which he picked from his fields. He expects his harvest to yield about 60 bushels to the acre, which will give him about 2000 bushels, all of which has matured well. Mr. Arbogast planted his corn May 18, considerably earlier than many farmers in this territory, which probably accounts for its having matured.

WOODMAN EDITOR DEAD

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The funeral of John F. Harris, aged 60, editor of the Modern Woodman, periodical of the Modern Woodmen of America society, who died at midnight Saturday, will take place Wednesday afternoon in Rock Island, with burial in Chicago.

REDUCED TAX RATE BROUGHT INCREASED COLLECTIONS ALL OVER NATION, REPORT SHOWS

Every Levy Except
That on Admissions
Yielded Big Increases

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Reduced federal tax rates, particularly those on individual incomes, resulted paradoxically in a heavy increase in collections for the fiscal year ending June 30, last, the first in which lower rates were in effect.

This was revealed today in the annual report of the Internal Revenue Bureau which showed the total increase to be $281,539,623 and that virtually every sort of levy except the admission tax yielded a larger return than in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1925.

Total international revenue collections in the past fiscal year from all sources were $2,835,999,892 with more than a quarter of this collected in New York State, where income tax receipts were $569,565,847 and miscellaneous revenue $164,224,046.

Despite the heavy slashes in personal income rates individual returns brought $33,658,054 more than in 1925 while the corporation levies, under a rate increased by one half of one percent during the last six months of the period totaled $178,747,537 more than in the previous fiscal year.

Admission taxes fell from $30,907,809 in 1925 to $23,980,676 during the past fiscal year, but the automobile taxes increased from $94,141,549 in 1925 to $118,133,245 and total miscellaneous receipts of $861,895,750 showed an increase of $39,414,532.

Michigan led all states in automobile tax collections with $84,391,922 while the cigar tax was $149,637,606 in North Carolina alone.

SILO-FILLERS
WARNED OF GAS
IN CLOSED BIN

Deadly Carbon Monoxide For Is Quickly
In Silos

With the coming of silo filling time on the farm, there is always present with this operation the danger of suffocation of men who enter the silo in the morning when the silo is full of gas. The gas is the deadly carbon dioxide gas, which quickly forms even while the process of filling the silo is going on.

So many times the doors to the top of the silo are put in soon after filling has begun. There is no better trap for this poisonous gas to form than in the partly filled silo which has all the doors in place. This word of warning has frequently gone out through the medium of the Farm Bureau or through the columns of various farm papers. Yet every year there comes a report or two from some part of the country to the effect that a farmer or hired man was asphyxiated in a silo when he entered it in the morning.

Such a tragedy as this kind need never occur on any farm, if proper precautions are taken to avoid it. Some one has suggested that a sign be placed at the foot of the silo warning everyone of the danger of entering at this time. Even though the doors may be necessarily left in the silo during the night following the beginning of the filling operation, the bad gas may be driven out by starting up the cutting machine and running it a few minutes before the men who tramp the silage must enter for their day's work. This blows out the carbon dioxide and forces fresh air in to replace it. A timely warning of this sort may prevent the loss of many a good man, and a word alone to the wise should be sufficient.

THIRD OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION OF
EVANGELIST TODAY

Aimee McPherson Hears
Charges Against Her
Read in Court

BULLETIN

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Aimee McPherson, evangelist, was arraigned in municipal court here today charged with a felony in connection with her alleged efforts to substantiate her story of having been kidnapped last May.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sleaf, whose confession in the case precipitated the charges against Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy and five others of conspiracy to obstruct justice and prepare false evidence, also were arraigned.

The evangelist and Mrs. Sleaf waived reading of the complaint and preliminary examination of the three women was begun.

Mrs. Kennedy had been arraigned previously on the charges.

The first witness called by the state was Ralph Hershey, an engineer of Santa Barbara, California. After he had pointed out a story of having seen a woman at Carmel, Calif., last May, whom he said he was convinced was the evangelist, court was delayed ten minutes while attaches sought a black board on which Hershey was asked to make a drawing showing the Carmel location.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The investigation of Aimee McPherson's explanation of her disappearance from Angelus Temple last May and her appearance five weeks later at Douglas, Ariz., will start here today.

More than 35 witnesses, ranging from grocer boy to millionaire, have been subpoenaed by Dist. Atty. Keyes to testify in connection with mass of evidence assembled, on which he recently based charges of criminal conspiracy against the evangelist and six others.

Accused with Mrs. McPherson are her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sleaf, who confessed she had been retained by the Angelus Temple pastor and her mother to "produce evidence" substantiating the evangelist's story that she had been kidnapped, and four others.

Promises Disclosure.

District Attorney Keyes, who will handle the state's case, promises to remove the mystery that surrounded Mrs. McPherson's absence.

Mrs. McPherson will have read to her personally for the first time today, the charges against her contained in a blanket complaint jointly naming herself, her mother, Ormiston and four others.

The complaint charges that: Mrs. McPherson's kidnapping story is an absolute fabrication.

That, to support her story, she and her mother unlawfully, wickedly, fraudulently and feloniously conspired to commit acts injurious to public morals and to pervert and obstruct justice.

Attempted Indictments.

That Mrs. McPherson attempted to have other persons indicted for kidnapping when there had never been an abduction.

That she remained in hiding with Kenneth G. Ormiston from May 19 to May 29 at Carmel-by-the-sea, with full knowledge and consent of her mother.

That she had hired and paid Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sleaf to produce a "Miss X" to swear she and not Mrs. McPherson had been with Ormiston at Carmel.

That she caused false affidavits to be made to support her story.

That she hired and paid Attorney R. F. McKinley to manufacture evidence for her.

McKinley was killed recently in an automobile accident.

MERCURY DOWN TO 28 DURING
SATURDAY EVE

Some Corn Hurt and
Some Helped Farm
Experts Say

Saturday night's predicted "cold snap" arrived on schedule and as promised, and as a result Lee county people shivered, outdoor vegetation curled up, and the growing corn was definitely checked. For the cold wave drove the mercury to below freezing, the government thermometer at Lincoln Way registering 38 above zero at its lowest point Saturday night.

HELPED AND HURT

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The heavy frost which visited northern Illinois yesterday morning was at once beneficial and damaging farmers said today. Late corn, constituting about 20 percent of the crop, was frozen in the milk and cannot be shelled. It will make feed of a poorer quality. However four-fifths of the crop was improved by the light freeze. It will now mature and be of good quality. Continued rains which preceded the frost were threatening the quality of the whole crop.

RAIN AT GALESBURG

Galesburg.—A light rain drove frost away last night, but vegetation was badly nipped Saturday night. County towns to the north of here report ice an eighth of an inch thick that was still unmelted at noon Sunday.

SAYS CORN IS SOFT

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—More than 80 percent of the corn crop in this locality was softened by the severe frost Saturday night, Charles A. Keltner, county farm agent estimated today.

FAMILY STRIFE
FACES CABINET
OF FRANCE NOW

Future Relations
Premier and Briand
Speculative

Paris, Sept. 27.—(AP)—There was much speculation today as to future relations between Premier Poincare and Foreign Minister Briand.

Briand and Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Germany's foreign secretary, recently had a "brass tacks" discussion near Geneva and announced that they had reached an agreement having as its objective the removal of all possible causes of friction between France and Germany.

The premier, addressing disabled war veterans at Saint Germain yesterday, said that even though France might be willing to meet Germany in the bonds of new friendship, she nevertheless would yield one jot upon the question of Germany having been responsible for the world war.

It was only by persuasion that Briand accepted the foreign portfolio in the Poincare cabinet after the downfall of his own ministry on the financial situation and there is much interest in what will occur at the cabinet's next meeting.

The conference between Briand and Stresemann took place during the meeting of the League of Nations at which Germany appeared as a member for the first time. After the conference, Briand said that if the French and German government followed the path chosen he thought the desired end of harmony would be attained. Dr. Stresemann confined this viewpoint.

In his speech M. Poincare placed squarely upon the shoulders of the German general staff and the Imperial government responsibility for the world war. The address was interpreted generally as a reply to that of Dr. Stresemann, when Germany was admitted to membership in the League of Nations, in which he referred to the incompatibility of antipathies within the league and the ideals of the organization.

"If the Germany of today," M. Poincare said, "would divest openly some of the practices of the Germany of yesterday, how much easier it would be for you to forget your war scars and extend a hand to those responsible for your wounds."

LICENSED TO WED

The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Fred Dimick: Charles McPherson and Mrs. Ethel Reese, both of Grand Detour; Howard G. Underhill and Miss Julia M. Gartner, both of Sterling; Harry Smith of McLeansboro, Ill., and Mrs. Gussie Hoskins of Dixon; Ysidro Jaurer and Miss Marie Castirzo, both of Nelson.

CRASHED INTO TRUCK

Mattison, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Glen Klutansky are in the hospital here as a result of crashing into a truck parked on the hard road south of here Sunday evening. Mr. Klutansky is seriously injured but is expected to recover.

Mrs. Emma Shaw is Dead in California

Relatives in Dixon today received word of the death of Mrs. Emma Shaw at her home at 420 So. Euclid Street, Englewood, California, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Shaw, who, before her marriage, was Emma Dysart, has many relatives and a great number of old friends in this county who will be shocked to learn of her death. It was known that she had been ill, but people here were unprepared for such sad news as came today.

For a number of years Mrs. Shaw and Miss Josephine Howell, also of Dixon, have made their home together in California. Mrs. Shaw was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Eustace E. Shaw of Dixon.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday, with burial at Inglewood.

F. C. BROOKNER,
ONE OF DIXON'S
PIONEER, DEAD

Passed Away at Home on North Side at Early
Hour This Morn

Frank C. Brookner, one of the oldest residents of Dixon, died early this morning at his home at 910 N. Galena Avenue. Mr. Brookner was a son of Christopher Brookner and Jane Brookner, who were among Dixon's earliest settlers. He was born in Dixon, November 26th, 1848, and was employed with his father as a carpenter and builder for many years.

Mr. Brookner was an athlete and gymnast of considerable ability, and for a time acted as physical director of the Omaha Athletic Club, the Omaha Y. M. C. A. and later of the Athletic Club conducted by the U. S. Steel Corporation at the Joliet Steel Mills.

He was married to Susan Peacock, daughter of William Peacock and wife, who were also early residents of Dixon. Mr. Brookner is survived by his widow Susan Brookner, his three sons, Howard Brookner of Joliet, Leon Brookner of Joliet, and Merton Brookner of Dixon. A brother William W. Brookner of Globe, Arizona, and three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Crose, of Santa Ana, California; Mrs. George A. Reynolds of Binghamton, New York; and Mrs. A. C. Warner of this city also survive.

He was modest, quiet and unassuming, was loyal to his friends, and universally beloved by all of his acquaintances. The tender, constant and genial qualities of his friendship endeared him to his associates in an unusual degree. He was an active member of the Baptist Church of this city, and was ever loyal in his efforts in its behalf.

The funeral will be held from the late residence of the deceased, Wednesday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock.

Mr. Brookner distinguished himself at the time of the bridge disaster in 1873 when he swam out into the river and rescued six persons who had been thrown into Rock river.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Miller and Prof. Donald Yoder of Aurora were over Sunday guests at the L. W. Miller home on West Third street.

IDAHO WOMAN, SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR LIFE TODAY FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND, IS CALM

Ruper, Idaho, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Crumroy today was sentenced to spend the remainder of her natural life in the Idaho State Penitentiary at Boise. Sentence was pronounced by District Judge Lee, before whom the woman was tried and convicted of the murder of her husband, Carl Crumroy, a farmer by administering poison.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Lee decreed that the convicted woman should not be eligible for parole for 99 years. A jury found her guilty of murder in the second degree.

Following the verdict it was learned by court attendants that the first ballot stood 9-3 for murder in the first degree and that the second ballot was 11-1 for the same verdict. The one holding out against capital punishment stood fast in his opposition to the woman paying the supreme price for her crime.

Mrs. Crumroy will probably be taken to the state penitentiary tomorrow. She received the sentence with the same outward calmness that has marked her demeanor since the trial opened September 2.

Four Teams Playing in Maytown Ball Tourney

A baseball tournament which attracted a large crowd of fans, opened yesterday at Maytown with four teams participating. Walton, Ambloy, Ohio and Maytown are playing a series to decide the supremacy of this locality. In the opening game, Walton defeated Maytown by a score of 15 to 0. In the second game Ohio won from Ambloy by a 7 to 2 score. Miller, Devine, Lievald and Phalen of Dixon played with the Walton team and were responsible for nine of the 15 runs scored.

The tournament will be resumed next Sunday afternoon when Walton will cross bats with Ohio to decide the championship. Ambloy and Maytown will meet in the second game. By agreement, all of the games in the tournament are limited to seven innings.

FOREST PRESERVE IS MEMORIAL TO BATTLE OF FORGES

Gen. Abel Davis Delivered Address of Dedication Yesterday

Chicago, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Telling the story of the Battle of Forges Wood, fought eight years ago today, General Abel Davis then a colonel, today delivered the chief address at the dedication of the Forges Memorial and the Forbes Wood in Palos Park, a forest preserve.

"This is a solemn gathering to commemorate the initial stage of the Meuse-Argonne offensive, the turning point to victory in the World War," General Davis said.

"Eight years ago, on the 26th day of September, 1918, the Allied Nations launched this epoch making offensive, the line of attack reaching from the River Meuse to the North Sea. The 192d Infantry was the pivot for the general advance which was to swing to the north and drive the enemy off the West bank of the Meuse. For two weeks prior to the attack, the 192d Infantry took up the front line trenches of the famous battlefields at Dead Men's Hill in front of Verdun. The officers and men of the 192d, sons of Illinois, relieved the 408th French Infantry Regiment and for two weeks preceding the Meuse-Argonne offensive stood watch over the approach to the city of Verdun, where a million lives were given to stop the advance of the enemy."

"When the order reached me as the colonel of the Regiment, that we would leave our trenches at Dead Men's Hill and attack the enemy in front of us, I was reminded of my first inspection of the Sector made with the Colonel of the 408th French Infantry. He was explaining our defenses as well as those of the enemy. As we were standing in an observation post, looking across the river, he said, 'An advance in this direction by either side is impossible. The Germans tried it and failed. We shall possibly never try it ourselves. Any movement against the enemy would have to be from the East side of the Meuse. We are on the West bank. The River Forges, the barbed wire entanglements which have been going through a process of improvements on both sides for the last three years, the machine gun nests on the edge of Forges Woods and the whole scheme of the German defense would make an attack by us quite impossible.' When the attack order reached us, it provided for what the gallant French Colonel considered quite impossible: to hop over the top, cross the Forges swing around to the East, and establish a line of approximately 2000 meters in length on the West bank of the Meuse."

"Courage, determination, bravery expressed in a conviction that life is naught compared to the glory and honor of the flag under which our men fought, accomplished the very task which the French Colonel assured me was unattainable. Within five hours after we started, we crossed the River Forges, captured the Woods and what remained of the city of Forges, drove the enemy across the river and began digging in to hold the line on the banks of the Meuse. This glorious accomplishment called for sacrifices. Sixteen dead and seventy five wounded was the toll exacted."

"While the first day of the Meuse-Argonne offensive is the outstanding event responsible for our presence today, this—the Forges Woods in Palos Park and the Forges Memorial Cabin which we are dedicating today, shall remind us not only of those whom we lost on the memorable September 26th, but also of our lost heroes, comrades of the regiment lost in the conflict and laid to rest beneath the soil of France, and the 1500 others, who came back with us, wounded, maimed, contracted, incapacitated temporarily or permanently, to take their places at the tasks which were theirs before the war. Those of us who survived unharmed shall ever cherish the memory of our dead. Shall ever hold out a hand of comradeship to those with whom we fought. And we shall ever be proud of the opportunity which was ours to fight under our Nation's colors. Sacred are the names of the dead and the living who formed the Great American Army."

"The Pacificists do not have a monopoly on their desire for peace. It is a characteristic trait of the American nation to live at peace with her neighbors, to be just and fair to all the peoples of the world. Speak to the men around you in this gathering who took part in all the engagements of the famous regiment. These men—who have seen their comrades suffer, who have seen their dear ones who have seen innocent children, old men and women driven from their homes never to return to them—these men who have lived through the horrors of war, never want to see another war. And these men, who have proven their devotion to the Country's cause on the battlefields of France, will in times of peace readily give themselves to any line of action which would bring the right understanding between America and the other nations of the world to eliminate or at least reduce to a minimum the possibility of war, but the desire for peace shall not deter us from the conviction that the youth of America of today shall have an opportunity to be prepared to defend our Nation's honor and position, and without unnecessary sacrifice to be able to resist a foreign foe and to protect and defend the institutions of our great republic for which so much precious blood has been shed, from the days of the Revolutionary war to the Armistice Day of the World War."

"To this cause of fair play to the youth of America, let us dedicate ourselves on this sacred spot in the name of those who have made the supreme sacrifice and given their lives in front of this great republic might live—for the sake of its citizens—for the sake of a better world."

Rockford—Progress in the investigation of the murderous attack upon the Dotz brothers, solution of at least two recent robberies and hope to close two other cases was reported by the police.

Tony Digiovanni, 19, 330 Knowlton street, is at liberty under bond of $2,000 set Friday night when he was arraigned before Justice O. M. Williams on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Digiovanni was arrested Thursday for questioning following the shooting of David and Alex Dotz, 'stoof pigeons' for the police department and state's attorney's office.

Dotz Boys Recovering

Alex, whose shoulder was fractured by a shotgun slug, was reported to be recovering. He has been dismissed from St. Anthony's hospital. David also is continuing to show improvement.

Ethelma J. H. Prial went to Oak Park for Frank Davis, a negro, under arrest there and wanted here on a charge of robbing a grocery store at Harrison avenue and Kishwaukee street.

Two other negroes taken into custody by the police are believed by F. Apolloni, 317 Hill street, to be the same men who slugged and robbed him of $36 Friday night at the C. & N. W. viaduct west of Winnebago street. No formal charge against the two has been made. It is said.

Robbed of 90 Cents

Several clues have been uncovered by police investigating the Auburn Street Hardware store robbery Thursday night, when two shotguns, two rifles and ammunition were taken.

No trace has been found of two highwaymen accused by Kenneth Byrden, 334 Washington street, of robbing him of 90 cents late Friday.

Old Sixth Ill. Inf. May Hold a Reunion

Suffrage Showing in Six Years Held to Be Excellent

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—"After only six years of suffrage—a splendid showing."

This is the opinion women voters of Illinois have of themselves, as expressed in the bulletin of the Illinois League of Women Voters, soon to be published here. It tells that there are fifty-five women candidates for election to various state and county offices this fall.

Of that number, twenty-six are Republicans, 20 are Democrats and four are Progressives.

Four women are running for seats in the State Legislature, all of them on the Republican ticket; three women, Progressives, are running for congress; two women, one a Progressive and the other a Republican are running for Appellate court clerkships; twenty-nine women, fifteen of them Republicans and fourteen Democrats are running for County Superintendent of Schools; and seven women are running for county treasurer, two for county clerk and one for town clerk.

Of the four candidates for the State Legislature, three women, Katherine Hancock Goode, Chicago; Mrs. Rena Elrod, Chicago, and Mrs. Lettie Holman, O'Neill, Downers Grove, are Republicans running for reelection. The fourth is Mrs. Mary C. McAdams, Republican, of Quincy, who, while not a former member of the General Assembly has been for six years, its postmistress.

Questionnaires sent the legislative candidates, drew favorable answers from all the women. Mrs. Elrod was the only one of the four whose enthusiasm colored her answers. Answering the question, "Would you favor a return to the convention method of choosing candidates?" she wrote, "Mercy, No."

"Emphatically yes," she wrote after the item—"Further protection of child workers," and to the question, "Do you think the public payrolls of the state should be readily available for consultation by the public?" she wrote, "I absolutely do."

Records of all women legislators last term were warmly commended by the Legislative Voters League.

In the counties of Alexander, Bureau and Scott, women are opposing each other on the Republican and Democratic tickets for county superintendents of schools. Lucy B. Twente, Republican, opposes Laura I. Milford, Democrat, in Alexander; Charlotte H. Stetson, Republican, opposes Mary L. Urhoff, Democrat, in Bureau county; and Olive L. Wells, Republican, opposes Alice I. Mudd, Democrat, in Scott county.

Other Republican candidates for County Superintendent of Schools include the following:

Martha J. Ashby, Carroll county; Miss Minnie Whitman, Cook county; Mrs. Mattie S. Hamp, Hardin county; Miss Rose Janssen, Jefferson county; Florence L. McGaughey, McDonough county; Ethel C. Coe, McHenry county; Hattie M. Blair, Marion county; Miss Elizabeth F. Conle, Montgomery; Mrs. L. B. Phelps, Pope county; May S. Hawkins, Pulaski county; Bessie B. Pemberton, Saline county; and Winifred Martin, Tazewell county.

Republican candidates for County Superintendent include: Edith Brown of Brown county; Mrs. Lucy Stewart Brown of Champaign; Mrs. Maude Glogher of Christian; Neil Taylor of DeKalb; Octavia F. Cooke of Gallatin; Mrs. Nettie B. Dement of McLean; Fannie Spatts Merwin of MacLean; Miss Wilhelmina Bauch of Pike;

Anna G. Lowman of Stark; and Agnes J. Bullock of Woodford.
Woman Progressives running for congress are Mrs. P. J. Carlson of Rock Island; Miss Natalie Schreier, Chicago; and Miss Lillian Foley, Chicago.

Two Republicans, Mrs. Laura B. Evans of Taylorville and Mrs. Helen Matthews Grigsby of Pittsfield, and one Democrat, Mrs. Reulah Wilson Campbell of East St. Louis, are running for trustees of the state university.

Women running for county treasurer are: Lillian James, Democrat of Jasper county; Mrs. Laura Nichols, Republican, of Kendall county; Mrs. Natalie, Republican, of Logan county; Mamie C. Welch, Democrat, of Logan county; Margaret M. Allen, Democrat, of Stark county; and Mrs. Rosa Hansen of DeKalb county, and Jennie Dick of Menard, whose political affiliations were not reported to the League.

Hattie Powell of Jasper county, a Democrat, and Dottie McCreary of Piatt county are candidates for county clerk and Maude Aldredge of Stark county is a candidate for town clerk.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal cooked with figs, thin cream, crisp bran toast, buttermilk, pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cauliflower soufflé, toasted graham muffins, celery hearts, peach rice pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Baked fish with oyster sauce, baked potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, pear salad, peach and cantaloupe shortcake, graham bread, milk, coffee.

Equal parts of peaches and melons cut in uniform pieces are combined with orange juice and sugar and used with a rich baking powder biscuit dough for the shortcake. This way of using cantaloupe makes it possible to salvage those that do not seem sweet enough for "plain" serving.

Cauliflower Soufflé
One small head cauliflower, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 tea, sweet pepper, 3 eggs.

Let cauliflower stand head down in salted water for one hour. Cook in boiling water, heads up for ten minutes. Drain and chop. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add salt and pepper and cook until smooth and thick. Add minced pepper. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored and stir into hot sauce. Remove from heat and let cool while beating whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Add cauliflower to sauce, fold in beaten whites and turn into a well-buttered baking dish and bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven. When firm to the touch the soufflé is done. Serve at once. Mass Meeting of
Lee County Women

There will be a mass meeting of Lee county women at 10 o'clock Thursday, October 7 at the Farm Bureau office in Amboy under the auspices of the Lee County Home Bureau. Katherine Van Aken, state leader in home economics, extension service of the University of Illinois will speak. This will be an open discussion.

At noon there will be a basket lunch, each lady being asked to bring dishes and sandwiches for herself and one generous dish of food. Coffee will be served free.

Mrs. H. S. Ewing, president of the Illinois Federation of Home Bureaus will be the speaker at 1:30 o'clock and at 2:30 there will be a program of readings and music. Every lady in Lee county is invited.

ROCKFORD CLUB INVITES

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD

Today's riddle: When is a royal suite not a royal suite? The answer seems to be, "when royalty wanted it, and rich but not regal bloated plutocrats are sleeping on the silken sheets."

Beautiful Queen Marie of Rumania wants to sail to America. But the queen's emissaries learn that all the royal suites of all the royal steamship companies are booked for many a moon by rich Americans who have the requisite $5000, if not the blood royal in their veins.

Steamship companies have done their best. Have tried to recall some of the royal suites, 'tis said. But nothing doing! "Them, as has, keeps," and "them as hasn't, goes without," be they ever so much a queen!

This royal attack on democracy in its very own air seems brave indeed to me. Evidently Queen Marie does not step into overalls and put up hay as a democratic gesture!

Helen Willis (remember her?) smiles happily over her student's art work in a California university, albeit she is sans appendix and championship. Young Helen proves again the folly of the old proverb "Too many irons in the fire." Helen, "the all-around girl," is as happy with her art as with her racquet, and vice versa. And if even a champ can "chuck" the weapon with which she champs, how much easier should it be for human mortals to "put another iron in the fire" future insurance as it were, against the day when one vocation loses its charm.

The lady who takes the president big pay check each month tells this one. Her name is Miss Kate A. Shea, employee of the U. S. Treasury department, who has paid so many presidents that she has lost count. The first time she paid Silent Cal, says she, he said never a word till she reached the door, then murmured "please come again."

Well he might, thinks Mary Smith who opens "his" pay envelope of $27.50 on Saturday night. For Silent Cal's monthly check is $6250, but by the time he's paid for his and paid for that, he probably has little more left for a real "bat" than has John Smith after paying his grocer and butcher, smiling over an extra half dollar for a movie for the "missus" and self.

There are 50,000 women bootleggers in this land of the free, we are told. Investigators say that woman's innate love of luxury which cannot be satisfied on the average income, forces her into this job. Which reminds me of a famous woman detective who tells me that in 25 years she has never found a woman who stole from necessity, always the bit of lace, the string of pearls, or the vanity case, found when they are caught.

Speaking of ladies who bootleg, we are told of a famous pair called "Empress" Pic and Florence Lassandra. They were caught and arrested. The man declared that he and he alone was guilty. The woman declared the same. To make sure the law hound them both. Just a chance to remark, "honor among thieves" and "in the mud and scum of things, there's always something there that sings."

Poor abused woman, indeed! Somebody called Earnest Vierbroter swam the English Channel a few days after Trudy Ederle brought glory to her sex and America. He bettered Trudy's time by more than two hours. A few days later another woman, Mrs. Clemington Corson, shook the water of France from her toes on the English side. Her time was not nearly that of the man's. But everyone is talking about Trudy and Mrs. C., and hardly any one remembers poor Ernest's name. It takes a woman to throw the proper romantic glamor over any feat!

Gray goat skin to match the fur coat is used in this tight-fitting hat with gray belting ribbon piped with gold-colored felt.

Can you satisfactorily ablate your faire phiz without a wash cloth? Neither can I. Every time I stay at a hotel I mean to complain to the management by putting a note in one of these little boxes labeled "suggestions for bettering our service." Any hotel which would be as generous with some nice wooly wash cloths as with its towels would get all my valuable patronage, I promise.

Speaking of the channel swimmers, Trudy is probably an awfully nice girl. But somehow I felt more for "the first words" of her first runner-up, Mrs. Corson, than for Trudy's. Trudy said you remember, "I'm happy for America. I did it all for her." Mrs. C. said, "I had to have some money for the kiddies." Maybe when Trudy has some kiddies she'll have some cause to be equally unaffected and stagey.

Community Art Class Meets Tuesday Eve.

The Community Art Class of which Miss E. Louise Guernsey, the art supervisor in the Dixon Public schools is director, will continue its work during the school year of 1926-27. The first meeting will be held Tuesday evening, September 28 in the South Side High School, at 7:00 o'clock. The class meets every two weeks and endeavors to meet the needs of those who enjoy working along the lines of the artistic.

The class is open to adults outside of the public schools as well as the teachers for whom it was originally organized.

Morrissey-Shannon Wedding Saturday

Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock at St. Mary's church in Walton, a beautiful wedding took place, with Rev. F. G. Flynn, officiating. Mrs. C. C. Ackerl presided at the organ, having charge of the music during the ceremony and playing the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party approached the altar, the bride being Miss Marie Morrissey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrissey of Walton. She was united in marriage to Lewis Shannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shannon of Chicago.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of rose beige satin finished canton crepe. Her hat and shoes matched her gown and her flowers were brides roses in a corsage bouquet.

The bridesmaid who was Miss Margaret Shannon of Chicago, a sister of the bridegroom, wore a becoming gown of rosewood satin finished canton crepe with hat and shoes matching. The best man was John Morrissey of Walton, a brother of the bride.

The bride, who is a graduate of Mt. Carmel Academy, Clinton, Iowa, is a charming young woman and has been a successful Lee county teacher.

The bridegroom is an employee of the International Harvester Co. After the ceremony a delicious three course breakfast was served to the immediate relatives at the bride's home. The breakfast was catered by Mrs. John Blackburn and Mrs. J. P. Brechon, the breakfast was served by Misses Mary Hoyle and Julia Brechon. The Morrissey home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers in gorgeous autumnal colorings, the dining room and bride's table being especially lovely.

The young couple have left on a wedding trip to points of interest in the west, stops to be made at Omaha and Denver, Colo. They will be at home after October 16th at 1513 East Marquette Road, Chicago.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Edward Shannon and daughter, Miss Genevieve, of Chicago. Many friends join in wishing the couple every happiness.

ATTENDED W. R. C. CONVENTION

TELLS OF WORK OF Y IN SOUTH PART OF INDIA

Story is Tribute to Secretaries of Y. M. C. A. There

Behind the massive buildings and elaborate activities, that lookers-on accept as typifying the Young Men's Christian Association, stretches a front line that slowly, steadily and with much effort, is driving forward into parts of the world which to many are unknown. The story of efforts being made in tiny rural areas, often under the worst possible handicaps of illiteracy and poverty, rarely penetrates through the more spectacular doings at home, but when it does the contrast is amazing.

D. S. Hatch an American Y. M. C. A. man, gives a brief front-line glimpse in a report from Martandum, "way down in the south of Travancore, practically at the very tip end of India," where a "rural demonstration center" is conducted by two Indian secretaries.

"The area in which the villages around Martandum are situated," says Mr. Hatch, "is one of the poorest in the state. The land is hilly, unimproved, generally not very fertile, and not capable of rich production as are the lower wet lands. Tilling the soil and climbing palm trees for juice to make toddy and jaggery syrup are the main occupations. Both these leave the men idle at least four months of the year."

"Our secretaries have given attention to about twenty village Y. M. C. A.'s, which have honorary, unpaid workers. They have organized, nurtured and guided thirty Co-operative Credit Societies. They have demonstrated the keeping of pure-bred poultry, methods of gardening, bee keeping, boys' work. A weaving school and two night schools, one English and one Tamil, are conducted. A library is maintained. Two Co-operative Bee Keepers' Associations have been formed. The various co-operative societies have settled many disputes by arbitration."

In its endless ramifications the work goes on, bit by bit, under a blistering tropical sun, in an effort "to improve the economic, moral and spiritual status of the people."

Making Plans to Open Gym Classes for Fall

Final arrangements are being made in the Physical Department of the local Y. M. C. A. for the opening of gym classes this week. Classes will open for men, boys and women. Today being Ladies' Day registrations are being made and from all indications, there will be not only those who were members in this Department last year but a large number of new members will also begin classes.

Every day inquiries and new members are coming into the Association and with the present touch of cold weather it will not be long before the Physical Department is going full strength.

Friendly Indians Will Hear About Big Party

The Blackhawk Tribe of Friendly Indians, under Big Chief Edward Lafr, will meet tomorrow evening at 6:30. The meeting tomorrow evening will not be a supper meeting and boys are requested to have their supper before they come. After the passing of tests, a gymnastic and swimming program will be put on.

There are rumors of a big party for this Tribe of small boys and announcements will be made at tomorrow evening's meeting.

THE TAX AMENDMENT.

Time is growing short for the voters of Illinois to decide how they are going to vote on the proposed amendment to the tax article of the constitution of the state of Illinois, to be submitted to them at the election the coming November 2. For years there has been need for some change in the constitution which would permit lifting a share of the tax burden from real estate and tangible property and placing a portion of it in "intangible" property, such as stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc. When the present constitution was adopted fifty-six years ago, realty and tangible personal property constituted the great bulk of property in Illinois. The amount of intangible property then was so small as to be almost negligible. Thus it came about that there was put into the present constitution a provision that all property should be taxed "uniformly in proportion to its value." And thus it is impossible for the legislature now to extend a tax or intangible property except at its full face value. To tax the owner of say a thousand dollar bond which may bring him an income of $30 to $50 a year, at its full face value each year would absorb practically the full income from the bond and would make the holding of such bonds altogether unattractive.

It is for this reason that real estate, which the assessor can see and handle, is now bearing fully 71 percent of all taxes paid in Illinois, while its value is barely one-third of all the property in the state. This is true because intangible property is not listed. And the authorities are taking no pains to ferret it out and list it, because the unfairness of listing it at its full face value, instead of on the income it yields, is conceded on all sides.

The Illinois legislature wants the power to inaugurate a system of taxation that will recognize the changes that have come about in the wealth of the state in the last fifty-six years. The proposed amendment, if adopted, will give it that power, but under the substantial safeguard that it will require a two-thirds vote in each house of the legislature to do it.

The main objection to amendment that has thus far been voiced is that it would give the legislature—if the legislators so desired—power to provide for an income tax. But under the present constitution the legislature has already the power to levy an income tax; but an income tax levied under the present basic law would have to be in addition to already existing taxes. If the amendment is adopted and an income tax is levied it may be in substitution for other taxes, and the assembly will have authority to make allowances, exemptions or deductions and credits rendered proper in justice to the taxpayer.

With the requirements that it will take two-thirds of any legislature to make any new tax plan, it can scarcely be imagined that a less equitable plan would be devised than that which is now in vogue. Nearly every legislator wants to be re-elected and the possibility that the interests of the people would be flouted are remote. The Telegraph advises the people to vote for the amendment.

The proposal has the endorsement of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, the Illinois Agricultural association, the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards, the Illinois State Teachers' association, the Illinois General Federation of Woman's Clubs, the Illinois League of Women Voters, and the Illinois Bankers' association.

DIXON HIGH TOOK OPENING GAME AT POLO; SCORE 27-0

Both Teams Light and Show Lack of Fall Practice Work

Forty-four members of the Dixon high school football squad invaded Polo Saturday afternoon and engaged the township high school eleven of that city in the curtain-raising event of the season, winning by a score of 27 to 0. Polo presented a much stronger lineup than a year ago, and while the team is light, it has developed speed under the tutelage of Coach McLaughlin and promises to give teams from other schools of this class, tough battles this fall. They have some very good open plays of the Rockne type, but as is the case with the Dixon crew, the rains have hindered the early fall practice which is very essential.

The first quarter of the game saw both teams taking it easy and feeling out the other fellow. The light-weight back field was started for Dixon and failed to gain ground, being held for downs repeatedly. Polo was not gaining either and both were punting the ball. An entire new back field was used for Dixon toward the end of the period.

Punting Marked Game.
In the second quarter, some of the heavyweights were sent in to strengthen weak spots. Both teams were taking no chances and punting the ball to the center of the field. On an attempt by Polo to punt, Kennedy recovered the ball which had been partially blocked and ran 20 yards for the first touchdown of the afternoon. He then failed in his attempt to kick the goal, but Dixon led by a score of 6 to 0.

This appeared to have a stimulating effect upon the rest of the team and an assault was opened up on the Polo line. Teeter, Mark Keller and Kennedy ripped through the lines with a good defense for yardage, but could not put over another touchdown as the half closed.

In the third quarter Polo kicked off to Dixon's 28 yard line. Segner went around left end for seven yards, and four more were gained through the center of the Polo line. For the first time Dixon attempted two forward passes but both failed and the ball changed hands in the center of the field. Polo punting Dixon renewed its assault on the Polo line, advancing to Polo's 15 yard line, where Segner took the pigskin and raced around right end for a touchdown, the second of the afternoon. McNichol failed to kick the goal and the score was 12 to 0 in Dixon's favor.

Line Bucking Gains.
Polo kicked to Dixon and on three assaults, Dixon advanced the ball nine yards when Kennedy was called into action and plowed through the Polo line for a five yard gain. Segner circled the left end of the line for 28 yards, advancing the ball to within seven yards of Polo's goal. Here Dixon suffered a five yard penalty on account of the back field being in motion. Referee Furr on the next play moved the ball up to within one foot of Polo's goal line on a penalty called on Schaefer for rough tactics. On the next play he threatened to disqualify both Schaefer and Schoene for the rough playing. Kennedy dove through Polo's line and made his second touchdown. Captain Harry Weinman kicked the goal and the score was 19 to 0 in Dixon's favor.

Polo kicked to Dixon and the punt was returned on the next play. It was a freak punt and Polo played it badly. Blackburn kept his eye on the ball as it rolled down the field and across Polo's line, the entire field following. It was another touchdown for Dixon and Weinman failed to kick goal, making the county 25 to 0 as the period closed.

Polo's Second String.
In the fourth, Coach McLaughlin sent in his second string of men who played an exceptional game. The candidates were small and proved hard to keep track of. Polo presented a new formation at this time, using the opening line of the Rockne style and by so doing made the first down of the afternoon. Two downs were made by Polo when Schrader snapped a beautiful pass to McInay, who made 20 yards and was stopped one foot from the Dixon goal, where the final whistle sounded.

The Line Up.
Dixon—Blackburn, lb; Keller, lb; Prescott, lb; Kinney, c; Miller, rg; Weinman, rt; M. Miller, re; Segner, qb; Duffy, lbh; M. Keller, fb; Crews, rth.

Polo—Schoenefeldt, c; Langan, rg; Smith, lb; O'Kane, rt; C. Brown, lt; L. Brown, re; Fraser, lb; Davidson, (Capt) fb; Herrick, lbh; Schrader, rth; McInay, qb.

Paul Furr, DeKalb, referee; Lizer, Mr. Morris, umpire; Hall and Bauren, line timers; Milton Vaughan, head linesman.

TWO-OUNCE FROCK
London—Women's frocks by envelope. Recently a London girl, wishing to send a frock to a friend, folded it neatly, placed it in a large office envelope and mailed it for the ordinary letter postage. The dress weighed two ounces.

ONLY LONE FIGHT FOR SECOND POST LEFT FOR MAJORS

Cards and Yanks are the Champs; Athletics Threaten Indians

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Only a lone fight for second place remained today in the hectic major league season as the National and American League clubs wind up the playing year. St. Louis has won the National League pennant, the Yanks are safe beyond fear of overthrow in the American, but the Indians, who fought the Yanks bravely through the closing days, now find the Athletics threatening to oust them from second money.

Philadelphia cut down the Indians twice yesterday by scores of 8-5 and 2-0 and shaved the Cleveland hold on second place to two games. The Athletics by whipping the Indians again today and winning three games left with Washington can just nose out Cleveland for the runner-up position.

Cincinnati nosed out the Cardinals 2-1 in the final game of the season for both teams. A nine inning rally scored both the Reds runs.

The final standing of the leaders:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
St. Louis	89	65	.578
Cincinnati	87	67	.563

Vance in Giant Game
Dazzy Vance saved his best pitching performance for his last Brooklyn mound assignment of the year yesterday against the Cubs. Dazzy, windmill 3-1, held the Cubs to three hits and fanned 15, equalling his best major league record. Jess Petty made it two for Brooklyn in the second game 5-2.

The Giants wound up the season with two victories over Philadelphia both by scores of 3-2.

The Braves, idle yesterday, have three more contests with Philadelphia. The American league closed its doors yesterday for all teams but Philadelphia, Cleveland and Washington. The Yanks lost two games to St. Louis 6-1 and 6-2 with both teams working out reserves.

Detroit celebrated the last day of the season by beating Boston twice, 11-2 and 5-4.

The White Sox ended the campaign with a win over Washington 7-4.

Glenna Collette Faces Hard Battle this Week

Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 27—(AP)—The last of a series of national championships to defend titles, Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, R. I., faces stern opposition this week in the women's national golf tournament at the Merion Cricket Club.

Far from perturbed by the defeat of Helen Wills, Bobby Jones, Bill Tilden and Jack Dempsey, Miss Collett took heart in the fact that Walter Hagen repeated Saturday. Miss Collett has won the title twice.

The final round Saturday will be 36 holes.

How to Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days
Ask Rowland's Pharmacy, Dixon and Rochelle, or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated, and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good, healthy, solid flesh, and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, all druggists are authorized to return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

CARDS' INFIELD HAS SLIGHT EDGE IN WILLOW WORK

Hornsby's Players Better Hitters on Paper, Than Huggins'

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—Offensively the infield of the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National League, shows a slight superiority over the New York Yanks, coming to bat in behalf of the American League in the approaching world series.

The four regular infielders of the Cardinals have a batting average of .293 against .314 for the same number of players likely to occupy places in the Yanks first line of defense. Base running activities of the two quintets are not impressive, but the westerners maintain their slight edge here also with a total of 37 to 29 stolen sacks.

Lou Gehrig, with a batting average of .311, tops Jim Bottomley who has compiled .297. Gehrig has been more successful in hitting for extra bases than the guardian of the first door of the Cardinals. With 46 doubles, 20 triples and 14 homers, Bottomley has hit more homers than Gehrig with 19, but is behind in doubles and triples, his totals being 35 and 13. The stolen base performances of the two first sackers are nothing to gloat excited about, but Gehrig leads 6 to 4.

Roger Leads Tony.
Manager Hornsby even though below his usual form has outbatted Tony Lazzari, but the Yanks second sacker has been much more successful in negotiating triples and homers. With a batting average of .317 compared with .270 for Lazzari, Hornsby has made only five triples and 11 home runs while the former Pacific Coast star has 14 three base hits and 18 home runs. Hornsby drove out 35 doubles to 17 for Lazzari and they were all even in stolen bases as 15.

Lester Bell, St. Louis third baseman, has a better record than that of Joe Dugan who will play opposite him. On paper Bell is the best hitter in either infield. His average for the season is .329. Dugan has hit .284. Bell, however, has made 30 doubles, 14 triples and 17 home runs while Dugan has been forced to satisfy himself with twenty two base hits, five of three bases and one homer.

Bel has stolen ten bases while Dugan has been able to make two thefts.

Koenig Better at Short.
Mark Koenig of the Yanks and Tom Thoenow, representing the opposition at shortstop are not among the leading hitters, but Koenig's average tops that of Thoenow .269 to .255. The advantage also extends along the line of extra base hitting. Koenig leads in doubles 28-13; in triples 8-5 and in home runs 5-2. Thoenow is the better base runner 7-4.

George Toporcer probably will have a chance to look over the top of his "specs" from an infield position for the Cardinals during the series. He has outbatted Mike Gazzella who has the first call as a Yank infield sub 266 to 232. No excitement whatever has been caused by the best running of this skillful but modest pair. Toporcer having stolen one base and Gazzella barely doubled this output with two.

London Can't See Way to Finance Big Fight
London, Sept. 27—(AP)—Sporting writers are voicing in their newspapers views on the proposed Tunney-Lempsey fight next year at the Wembley Exposition arena.

They give special attention to a reported demand by Tunney for a purse equal in amount to that received by Dempsey when Tunney defeated him last Thursday night in Philadelphia. Several of the writers, including the expert of Sporting Life, agree that it would be most difficult to obtain admission money here to satisfy such a demand, let alone what Dempsey himself also would want.

"The British," says Sporting Life, "are not educated to open air boxing as are the Americans."

Another expert declares no glove fight in London would draw more than $125,000.

EVERY FIGHTER ON THURSDAY'S CARD NOW IN CHICAGO

Boxing Fans Will Get Some Real Scraps Thursday Night

Chicago, Sept. 27—Mickey Walker entertained the railbirds with a great exhibition of punching yesterday at Mullen's Gymnasium where the former welter king was training for his match with Shuffie Callahan at the Cubs' Park here, Thursday night, Sept. 30th.

Callahan had been holding the center of the stage for several days prior to Walker's arrival. But when Mickey began punching his sparring mates around the ring, the fans sat up and took notice.

Walker is in great condition. His long training siege in the mountains and his work at the training camp at Summit, N. J., certainly put the Irish batter in fighting trim and those who were looking for Callahan to have an easy time licking Mickey Walker, hastened to revise their opinions.

The bouts supporting the main event will be great fights. This fellow Harry Dillon continues to impress and when his great record is considered, it can be easily seen that those who predict the possibility of Dillon annexing the light heavyweight title within a short time, know what they are talking about.

Dillon is facing a tough customer in the rugged youngster, Joe Woods, and their ten round setto will rival the main battle in attractiveness from the spectators' standpoint.

Wolcott Langford and Alletown Joe Gans, two of the greatest colored boxers in the world, will settle a long standing matter of which is the best fighter when they meet in a ten rounder at 160 pounds.

Del Fontaine, Canadian middleweight champion and Joe Anderson, Cincinnati 155 pounder, go to bat in another ten rounder. There will be some punching in this affair as Fontaine holds wins over the best in Canada, via the knockout route and Joe Anderson's record reads like that of a world's champion.

Every boy on the card is now in Chicago and in training at Mullen's.

Tunney Disappears as Wild Rumors are Heard

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—Gene Tunney was submerged today somewhere among six million people of the Metropolis.

He was resting somewhere after his strenuous night in the fight ring and the triumphant homecoming to New York. Reports that he was ill, had been killed in an automobile accident, had died at home, and finally had dropped dead, have filled the city and brought hundreds of telephone calls to the newspapers since the title holder failed to appear at a benefit for the Florida relief fund Saturday night. Tunney explained he thought the performance was scheduled for Sunday and so did not attend.

Calls to the Tunney home in Riverdale received answers from members of his family that Gene was not sick or injured and had just gone away to get rest and quiet.

A Sensational Saving
"On the basis of the estimated yield of gasoline by straight distillation in 1925, it would have required approximately 287,000,000 barrels, additional, of crude oil to furnish the gasoline made by cracking processes."

This quotation from a circular published by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, indicates the extent of the service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in discovering and developing commercially successful processes for cracking gasoline.

The widespread use of the cracking processes, effecting a saving of 287,000,000 barrels of crude in 1925, is largely the result of the action of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in leasing its processes to competitors.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) did not maintain a monopoly of the processes it discovered, because unwavering loyalty to the people of the Middle West and an unflinching integrity of purpose in serving them, prohibited such a course.

Ultimately, it is the people who benefit from the widespread use of cracking processes.

Without the widespread leasing of these processes, the motorists of the country would have been forced to shoulder the cost of "bringing in" 287,000,000 additional barrels of crude oil, or of going without the use of their cars.

Moreover, it is extremely doubtful if 287,000,000 additional barrels of crude oil could have been produced in 1925, regardless of the money expended to discover it.

The importance of the process for producing gasoline by cracking in conserving an essential natural resource of the nation cannot be estimated.

Its importance to the future of oil conservation is suggested by the Bureau of Mines' circular which says: "There is probably no one factor that is more important with regard to a future supply of motor fuel than a more extended use of the cracking process in the refineries of the country."

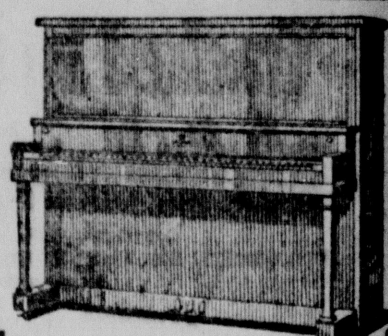

The conservation of 287,000,000 barrels of crude resulting, directly and indirectly, from scientific work in the research laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a sensational saving.

Yet it is but one far-reaching result of the quiet, unpretentious work that is going on every day in the laboratories of this company. It is but one of the fruits of steady, untiring labor and persistent effort.

This sensational economy was made possible by the ordinary, every-day integrity that governs the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in all its activities—an integrity that has made the name of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) a guarantee of dependability.

The reputation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due to no sudden or spectacular effort. It has been built slowly and solidly by the simple process of hard work, animated by the desire to serve the thirty million people of the Middle West sincerely and efficiently.

"TRACKED BY THE POLICE," starring Rin-Tin-Tin, is a Warner Bros. production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Among the things that have sustained Jimmy Ford through the horrors of war in France are letters from his sweetheart, Ruth Allen. One of these letters upsets him, because it tells of the attention Dan Murlagh, a politician, pays her in Jimmy's absence. In his heartbreak he volunteers for a dangerous raid. A German war dog gives her life to save his Jimmy. In gratitude, she adopts her puppy, and smuggles it home after the war. Jimmy's father, a police lieutenant, is mysteriously murdered. Jimmy joins the force to avenge him, and has on able ally in Rin-Tin-Tin, now full grown—

Out—out—back and front, to a luxurious, satisfying stretch of every little cord and nerve and tendon in his great body, tingling now, grunting with the joy of strong physical life. Rinty drew himself together again, and the same motion that carried his hind legs erect under him sent him forward on a wide awake, joyous trot into Jimmy Ford's bedroom.

At one minute and thirty seconds past six on that soft September morning the arbitrary jerking of the bedclothes from his body and the snipping of friendly fangs at his bare feet summoned Jimmy Ford from the land of dreams to a realer land just as interesting and remarkable to him. In the first flush of manhood and love, as could be any fragment of the night's sweet fancy. A land of work, and people, and a dog that he loved.

The light touch of two swift passing years had brought to Jimmy many fortunate things. He had gone away to the war a boy and came home from it a man full molded and tempered in mind and body, albeit a trifle immature emotionally. The shock of his father's murder, but a short week later, had been a climax which forged his emotions into a stable whole with his mental and physical qualities, so that he had stood forth as a clear-eyed on the dark and desolate day after his father had been laid away in the imperturbable dust over which Father Clancy muttered a few prayers and sprinkled a few drops of sainted water. One then the careless flip of youth from him, the arm that he had slipped around his little mother's quivering shoulders even as it comforted her took the responsibility for holding the load of life off those frail shoulders.

The look that the man Jimmy passed to Ruth's dear, suffering eyes above his mother's head had been pregnant with a worshipping insight and understanding that brooked no longer the jealousies and selfish sulking of the boy Jimmy.

In that hour Jimmy's love had grown up to and matched the love of Ruth's sturdy affection and advanced comprehension; in her heart there was no room for another, in his mind there was no more space for youthful jealousy. Then began the sure and steady fostering of love, and the preparation for the sanctification of love some future day before that selfsame Father Clancy whose cloth gave him the holy power to bless and speed the wedding of two lives, as it did the beginning and the close of individual lives.

Patience love. The patient love of the poor. In all the world there is nothing nobler than the long-decaying steadfastness of true love in those to whom the stress and obstacles of economic strugency deny a spontaneous launching of the martial adventure. Well enough for the scions and pampered daughters of the rich and well-to-do; with them, to love or covet is to marry—without hindrance or delay. Not so the fortune of the poor or moderately circumstanced. For them, while the candle is presently tended, the pillow must be stockinged by the slow and painful accumulation of "enough to get married on." Common phrase, that, in the shadowed straits of humanity! Common in Chelsea. Common for Jimmy and Ruth. Many's the time they mouthed it longingly, the while in hallowed dusks they sat love-drunk on pier stringpieces in quiet nooks of the North river waterfront, holding hands, thrilling in untold measures at the bulge of thigh against thigh, kissing, unexploded passion! Matches flaming under powder kegs. Plain, old-fashioned courting. Petting parties not for such unexplicated ones as these.

Gravely Jimmy had gone to work. It was not so much that he had to support his mother. The pension from the Lieutenant's Fund of the Police Department assured her comfort for the rest of her days. Happiness she would never know again—now that her Jim was gone. For further material aid, there was the spare bedroom. Now, if some nice bachelor cop would appreciate a clean room in a quiet flat at a reasonable charge. Someone like Officer Flaherty, for instance—fat, and jolly, and a little dumb, and quite helpless. Indeed, Flaherty would! And so, in due course he was installed.

No, the fact of the matter was that Mrs. Ford, knowing how things stood with Jimmy and Ruth, and having a soft memory of her own flushed young days with Jim, would accept no more from Jimmy than his board.

Friends he had by the score. Lieutenant Ford's boy! Him that was shot down making things safe for us around here! Within the weak Jimmy's rifle and grenade clutched fingers were cramping over bank statements, and his application for "the force" was on file with the commission, bearing three indorsements from as many captains and inspectors who had been his father's friends. Jim Ford's boy!

Not many weeks later he had left the staid ledgers for two days and presented himself for the test of his manhood, the gauge of his mind, that would add an unexceptional board in determining whether or not there was merit enough in him to make wise the appointment to the force of this young man about whom so many high police officials had waxed and written sentimentally. Small need of friendly boosting in his case! Rare in the history of the department, here was a man who had passed with a perfect score—mental and physical!

Ruth had had something to do with that. Indirectly, of course. The fragrant odor of her hair in his nostrils as he bent over examination papers, the strong phantom pressure of her hand when he strained at his physical drill, his father, too—a beckoning, smiling, encouraging, idealized phantom. Little wonder it was as it was with Jimmy Ford's test.

Then he was in the rookie school. Then a probationer, proud and with the lusty swing of tradition and family heritage in his carriage. Already a suggestion of paternalism in the manner in which he stroked dirty Dago kids on their unwashed heads.

That was James Ford, Sr.—the genial and amiable, but hard fixed pride of the toughest neighborhoods in his plain cop days—living again in his son. Father to son—a succession of guild pride that persists solely, almost without exception, in the humbler walks of nation endeavor. One seldom hears of a railroad president being succeeded by his son. But a cop—the bright gold lieutenant's bars of his father's coat were a burnished goal. Jimmy went into the staid parlor in his pajamas every morning immediately after Rinty had trotted him the news and he formally saluted the purple and black draped crayon enlargement of his father that hung over the bemaunted synthetic fireplace.

"Why," Jimmy always said guiltily to Rinty, who gravely accompanied him each morning, "I'd have been an inspector, maybe even a deputy commissioner, if it Murlagh wouldn't have poisoned the politicians against him."

And Rinty always looked steadfastly at the crayon likeness and ruminated over the statement of thwarted eminence, not that he was at all interested in the photograph, indeed, it made no sense to Rinty at all, because, while it looked like a man, it did not smell like a man, but reeked rather of all kinds of disconcerting greenness and powder—but merely because it was undoubtedly the object of his beloved master's especial concern. Therefore, quite aside from his personal lack of interest in sentimental art, Rinty stood ready to bite the hand of any strange man, woman or child who might profanely touch the mysterious and abstract treasure.

Following this, while Jimmy proceeded to avail himself of the new-fangled shower that he had had a Twenty-third street Irish plumber attach to the flat's old fashioned bathtub at a cost of $11.55, Rinty went about other chores. First he scared Officer Flaherty into wide awakefulness by snarling and barking in his face. It was not a well-learned, or intimately affectionate task like the routine of Jimmy's one man dog—was Rinty?

HOW SHOCKING

Paris. — A party of foreigners entered a box in one of the big music halls. The women were elaborately gowned, the men in evening clothes. The theater was hot. Suddenly one of the men arose, removed his coat and hung it over the back of his chair. The audience showed no surprise, but down the line of almost nude young women on the stage ran a distinct murmur of indignation.

INDIANS PREFER RED

Washington—The Indian's fondness for gaudy colors long has been known, but it remained for Dr. T. R. Garth, of Denver, to determine their color preferences. They like red, blue, violet, yellow and white in the order named. White men, he says, prefer blue, then green and last red.

SAINT and SINNER

by Anne Austin BY NEA SERVICE INC.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

CHERRY LANE, 18, tiny, beautiful, copper-haired, is as different from her sister, FAITH, as two girls can be. Faith is compelled to stay at home and keep house for the family of six because her mother is a semi-invalid.

The other two children are JUNIOR, nicknamed "Long" Lane, and JOY, nine.

Cherry's long list of admirers includes CHESTER HART, formerly an admirer of Faith's; BOB HATHAWAY, a young architect for whom Mr. Lane, carpenter and contractor in a small way, is to build two bungalows; ALBERT ETTLESON, a married traveling salesman; her present employer, old MR. CLUNY, whom Faith surprises in the act of making love to Cherry, and CHRIS WILEY, over whom a girl has committed suicide, and many others.

GEORGE FRUIT, rich man's son and amateur artist, falls in love with Faith, whom he compares to the Venus de Milo, but Faith has already lost her heart to Bob Hathaway, who has eyes only for Cherry.

Fruit invites the two girls to a studio party in his father's garage loft. Faith works all day and most of the night to make a party dress for herself and Cherry.

While Faith is sewing late at night, Bob and Cherry return from a "date" and Cherry succeeds in making Hathaway kiss her. She admits as much to Faith, who begs her to play fair with Hathaway, but Cherry indignantly replies that she will not marry him if she can get Fruit, who is interested in Faith.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII

"It's too long, Faith!" Cherry wailed crossly. "I told you I wanted it just to my knees, and it's two inches below them."

Faith, on her knees before the little figure in the new printed chiffon, pushed damp wisps of hair from her perspiring forehead with a weary hand. "But I keep telling you that a bouffant skirt can't be clear up to the knees, Cherry! When you dance, it would swirl way above your knees. Besides, there isn't time to do a thing to it now. It's half past seven and I've got to bathe and dress yet."

"No daughter of mine is going to wear a dress any shorter than that," Jim Lane walked from the cluttered dining table into the living room, spectacles pushed high on his forehead, the sheets of the afternoon paper trailing from his hand. "It's a sin and a shame the way you fool flappers are dressin' these days."

"A lot you know about it, Jim Lane," said Mrs. Lane, waddling heavily into the living room, waving a palm leaf fan to cool her face. "If you're going to sew for Cherry, Faith, I should think you'd make her dresses like she wants 'em."

"Oh, Lord!" Faith groaned, sinking back upon her heels and flinging an arm across her eyes, as if to shut them all out. "Here I've worked all night and this day to get her dress ready, and this is the thanks I get for it! I wish I'd never stuck the scissors into it!"

"Faith Lane, how dare you talk to your mother like that!" Mrs. Lane bent over the girl and shook her fan in her face. "I've a good mind to slap your face for you, young lady, even if—"

But the sentence was never finished. Mrs. Lane's voice died away, then suddenly her big body lurched and fell, knocking Faith flat. The girl's arms went out, heaved at the fainting woman's body. Jim Lane was tugging, too, with all his strength. Between them, Faith and her father got the heavy, inert body into bed, while Cherry stood by, wringing her hands helplessly.

It was eight o'clock when the doctor arrived, and Mrs. Lane was conscious again, her lips purple, perspiration ice cold upon her brow. "High blood pressure, tricky heart, the heart," summed up the doctor's diagnosis, when he had administered a sedative and had given directions for Mrs. Lane's care during the night.

"Oh, Dr. Atkins—!" Faith was startled to see Cherry, fully dressed, ready for George Pruitt's party, step out of her bedroom and accost the good-looking young physician. "Is there any—any—danger?"

"She'll be all right now—for to night, at least." The doctor's appreciative eyes took in the copper-colored little figure. "If you were planning to go to a party, go right ahead. She'll be all the better for the quiet."

"I wouldn't go a step if I thought there was any real danger," Cherry told him, her golden eyes filling with tears.

When the doctor had gone, Cherry whirled on Faith, who was looking at her with steady, scornful eyes. "Don't look at me like that, Faith Lane! I don't see any reason why both of us should stay at home! And you caused it all! If you hadn't made Muggy angry by teasing her, it wouldn't have happened—"

"That's not true, Cherry. I told the doctor all about it. He said it was likely to happen any time now. She's really sick, Cherry, awfully sick, I'm afraid. It's not fair of you to put all the blame on me. I feel like a dog anyway."

HOG CHOLERA HAS NEARLY USED ALL SUPPLY OF SERUM

Illinois Agricultural Assn. Reports Serious Condition

Chicago.—(AP)—Facing an extraordinary outbreak of hog cholera in many of the down-state counties, the Illinois Agricultural Association has reported that there is danger that all available stores of serum may be exhausted.

Demand for serum for this year has been far greater than anticipated based on average usage in the past three years.

According to W. E. Hedgecock, livestock marketing director for the I. A. A., only four or five companies in the Middle West have reserves of serum and virus on hand and these are being rapidly exhausted as new demands come in from cholera-infested territory.

Serum companies in most cases are supplying the farm areas first, even though their estimated quotas have already been exceeded. It is understood that private parties and veterinarians buying in small quantities are paying highly advanced prices and in some quarters serum already is retailing for as high as $1.25 per 100 c. c.

W. E. Hedgecock reports the purchase of 500,000 additional cubic centimeters of hog cholera serum which was obtained at a substantial concession of $10 per 100 c. c. This will be delivered to county farm bureaus.
